

Co-Founder as Co-CEO Business for Next-Generation Proptech Platform

About Hominext

Hominext is a young and innovative proptech start-up located in Bonn, Germany. Our mission is to leverage the latest technology to revolutionize the way people search for their accommodation and flat mates along three dimensions:

1. The power of a social network

No more shady offers and sharing contacts with unknown people over the internet. Leveraging the power of an own social network, including a recommendation system, and an integrated chat functionality, Hominext ensures that your counterpart is the one who she or he pretends to be – and shows you what previous flat mates and landlords say about her or him.

2. The best user experience

Finding the perfect flat mate and accommodation and flat mate has never been easier. Hominext provides rich functionality, state-of-the-art functionality (e.g., videos) and numerous filter criteria supported by a state-of-the-art user-centric user interface.

3. Full automation along the way

No more discontinuities and cumbersome paperwork along the way. With Hominext, all your contracts are available in one central platform – and electronic workflows allow to sign, extent or dissolve them in a highly automated fashion.

Co-CEO Business wanted

After multiple months of development, Hominext is to be launched in selected pilot regions soon. Our development team around our Co-CEO Technology has made a huge effort implementing what is necessary to revolutionize the search for flat mates.

Now, to support our market launch, we are looking for a motivated and talented Co-CEO Business to lead and support the team in the following areas:

- General management:
Manage Hominext in shared responsibility with the Co-CEO Technology
- Overall business strategy:
Continuously extend and adapt our strategy to grow and expand, along with insights from competitive market intelligence
- Partner management:
Evaluate new opportunities to onboard partners to complement our unique offering to our customers
- Investor relations:
Identify and reach out to potential investors to foster Hominext's growth
- Marketing strategy and execution:
Translate our growth demands into executable marketing tasks – including state-of-the-art online marketing as well as offline partnerships
- Product roadmap:
Closely liaise with the development team to shape Hominext's future roadmap and make a difference to the way people look for accommodations and flat mates
- Organization building:
Plan and build the marketing and support organizations
